GREATNESS OF CHICAGO

cago's leading establishment. The square bounded by Wabash, Washington, State and Randolph streets is a big one—how big may be gathered from the statement that the basement sales-room of this institution covers four acres of ground, while the main aisle on the main floor of the establishment is nearly 400 feet long.

And yet the structure covering that block, 13 stories high, with four basements below, is unable to accommodate that vast retail business built up by the merchant prince of the Middle West; so across Washington street there is a second building, big enough in itself for a princely business, housing a man's department store.

Imagine a retail business that requires 46 acres of floor space, yet of such high class that more than 60 running miles of carpet are laid down to maintain the quiet elegance of the establishment. Fancy an army of shoppers so numerous that 77 passenger elevators are sadly overworked when high-water mark is reached, and a volume of purchases that requires 16 big freight lifts to handle it.

Picture a store that even in slack times has 10,000 employees and in rush seasons has to add 3,000 extra sales and delivery people. Consider the size of an institution that can meet the wants of a quarter of a million people in a single selling day in the big season.

Then you will begin to get some idea of the vastness of this wonderful temple of trade. It is a business of such proportions that it carries some 62,000 open accounts per month and 100,000 per year. Its stock of goods on hand is worth enough to ransom a king and diversified enough to supply every essential need of a man or woman from the cradle to the grave.

It Helps!

There can be no doubt as to the merit of Cardui, the woman's tonic, in the treatment of many troubles peculiar to women. The thousands of women who have been helped by Cardui in the past 40 years, is conclusive proof that it is a good medicine for women who suffer. It should help you, too.

It's Auto Ho! For Columbus, O. Gas Car Caravaning Popular

By automobile caravan to Columbus—that is the word that has gone to Methodism of the United States and to much of the automobile world outside of Methodism—as the excursion proper for the early summer of 1919.

It all started back during the war. In the interval it has gained such an impetus that there is no stopping it.

The proposition of getting a large throng to Columbus, O., for the Methodist Centenary celebration June 20 to July 13, was put up to H. B. Dickson, organizing secretary. Some two years ago. With the government trying to discourage railway travel, he hit upon the idea of bringing as many thousands as possible to Columbus in automobiles. He made a canvass of the Methodist church and found more than 75,000 persons owning automobiles within a touring distance of Columbus. He also made arrangements for parking and tenting in all desirable areas within 25 miles of the Ohio capital.

To facilitate these tourists the centenary is issuing 100,000 automobile maps, distributed gratis throughout the United States. F. W. Briggs of Boston, a man of national reputation in the handling of touring parties, was installed at celebration headquarters to give his entire time and attention to routing parties through the most desirable sections of the country, advising them of accommodations en route and of what they might expect on arrival.

Methodist auto owners were quick to grasp the possibilities of reaching the big celebration by machine. W. H. Cable at Council Bluffs was the first man to organize a considerable party. He reported 50 cars and a party of 200 which will start early in June from Iowa to Columbus.

Dr. E. M. Antrim of Springfield, Ill., was a little later in organizing, but topped his competitor by enlisting 1,000 automobiles for the trip.

City council of Columbus has placed all the city parks at the disposal of celebration tour parties. Director of Public Safety Thatcher has assured protection to any number of automobiles that may come. Arrangements have been made to rent tents and cots to those who come to Columbus desiring to camp out.

Most of the parks in Columbus are provided with elaborate shelter houses which not only contain rest rooms and toilet facilities, but in most instances community kitchens, which will be available to those who employ the parks as camping grounds. All of them have heat, light and water, without money and without price to all who come to the big celebration.

"First come will be first served," says Mr. Dickson, "and if everyone will do like Rev. J. E. Thompson of Winston-Salem, N. C., we will have no trouble." Mr. Thompson enjoys the distinction of being the first person to register for the celebration. The registration fee is $5 for individuals and $10 for a family. This includes admission to the celebration from beginning to end and the assistance of the Centenary celebration bureau in securing location. "It is important that people register early," says Mr. Dickson, "because, no matter how carefully we organize, it will not be possible to take care of an eleventh-hour rush in the manner we should like to. The people who register early will have all the advantage."

A large force is already engaged in cataloging registrations as they reach the Columbus office.
